AFFAIRS IN BROOKLYN.

HE SMILED AFTER FALLING 130 FEET. WITH FOUR RIBS AND AN ARM BROKEN AND FATALLY INJURED INTERNALLY HE

ASKED HOW FAR HE HAD FALLEN. Vilbur Clark, a painter, twenty-two years old while at work yesterday afternoon peinting a chimney of the Edison Electric Light Company's plant in Gwinnett-st., near Marcy ave., fell a distance of 130 feet, receiving injuries which resulted in his death. Clark had reached the top of the chimney in a hootswain's chair, and while at the work. a boatswain's chair, and while at his work was supported by a hook made of gas pipe. Saddenly the hook broke and the man darted headlong for the In his descent he struck the rear cornice of the three-story tenement-house at No. 73 Gwinnett-st., and bounded outward, striking a heavy wire which supported the chimney of a factory, which adjoins the dwelling-house. The force pulled the chimney over and it fell to the yard with the man.

At the time several colored children were playing the yard. Belle Johnson, five years old, was an the yard. Belle with the struck on the head by a piece of the cornice which was carried away by the force of the fall, but was only slightly hurt. The other children escaped with-Much excitment followed and several out injury. Much excitment followed and several people soon surrounded the injured man, who lay helpless, but still conscious, on the ground. Clark turned to a policeman of the Thirteenth Precinct, who had arrived, as he lay waiting for an ambulance, and asked how far he had fallen. The officer replied, "Nearly 200 feet." Clark smiled and became unconscious. At the hospital it was found that four ribs and the right arm had been broken, the head and neck hurt and internal injuries sustained. Striking the cornice of the house and the wire attached to the chimney, broke the fall and prevented instant death. death.

He died at the hospital without recovering consciousness at 11:45 o'clock last night.

LIVELY TILT BETWEEN LEARNED COUNSEL. There was a lively time in the Supreme Court yesterday between counsel in a suit for damages brought by Bernard Keilt against the Staten Island brought by Bernard Kell against the Sales Island Rapid Transit Company. The counsel for the plaintiff was Congressman T. B. Magner, and A. B. Bourdman, of Tracy. Boardman & Platt, appeared for the company. The plaintiff testified that on May 15, 1891, while on his way from the racetrack in Gravesend to his home in New-Jersey, he was hurrying to board a boat of the defendant's ferry at Bay Ridge, when a gate came down and hit him on the head, causing erious injury. Mr. Boardman was cross-examining serious injury. Mr. Boardman was cross-examining him, and asked: "How high was this gate in front of your head?" Mr. Magner interrupted by saying: "It was not in front of, but above his head." Mr. Boardman turned around and admonished Mr. Magner not to interrupt him, and Mr. Magner said to the Court: "I submit, Your Honor, that it is not fair for my opponent to distort the testimony of the witness in this way."

"And I submit that it is," said Mr. Boardman. "1 sk Your Honor to instruct my learned friend to sit down and keep his mouth shut."

Judge Cullen raised his hand and shook his head at the angry lawyer, and said: "Wait a moment, Mr. Boardman; such language is disrespectful and I shall not allow it in court."

"Disrespectful to Your Honor or to my learned opponent?" asked Mr. Boardman.

"It is disrespectful to speak of any one in such terms," replied the Judge, "and it is disrespectful to the Court. Do not make that remark again. I shall not permit it."

The case then went forward quietly.

FATHER DENT'S SUIT FOR REINSTATEMENT.

The suit of the Rev. Francis Dent against the The suit of the stev. Flaints belt principles of the step of Friars to secure reinstatement and $50,000 as damages for his expulsion from the order in 1866 "for good and sufficient reasons," as stated in the answer to the complaint, came to trial esterday in the Supreme Court, before Judge Cullen Father Dent sued Bishop Ryan, of Buffalo, cear, but was non-suited. In opening his case Father Dent rehearsed the history of his relations to the rder. He said that he was a Catholic prest and abject to the general rules of the Church and to the uperior-general of the Friars' Mission of the Fran-lacan Order. He was admitted to it in 1865 and dained a priest. All he had ever received from it as a piace to sleep and his board. In May, 1886, was denied admittance to the Bonaventure College in Buffalo by the superior, Andreas Lupoti, who issued a decree of expulsion on September 15, 1886.
Pather Dent said that the superior had no right to issue such a decree, that it was fraudulently obtained and contrary to the procedure and laws of the Catholic Church. Father Dent conducts his own case. The answer sets up that the plaintiff was lawfully expelled from the Order of St. Francis and that his expulsion was approved by the Pope, and denies that damages are due him.

THE CHARITIES COMMISSIONERS REPORT.

The Commissioners of Charities and Correction de their report vesterday of the investigation Martha Adair at the County Insane Asylum. The Coroner's jury found that her death was due to shock resulting from injuries received at the asylum. The Commissioners report that they were deprived by order of the State Board of Lunacy approved by Judge Cullen on January 7, 1892, of all power over the attendants and officials of the asylum in appointments, discipline and discharge, save the medical superinhim from all blame. The evidence taken in the case was referred to the medical superintendent, with instructions to continue and complete the investiga-tion and report at his earliest convenience. Under the order by the Court the medical superintendent has full power to employ and discharge all subordinates in the asylum. The Commissioners yesterday instructed their counsel to appeal from the de-cision of Judge Cullen handed down in May, denying a motion to vacate the order he made on January 7, 1892, approving the change in the management of the aschum.

ANOTHER EFFORT TO HAVE A BOARD OF TRADE. Brooklyn is to be made. The question was recently umber of stock brokers in the city and the small it could not be supported. But the discussion of the subject has induced a number of men interested in financial matters to propose the formation of a Board of Trade in order to secure a record of authentic uotations for stocks. At the beginning there will bably be an offering of stocks once a week to secure public prices, and if the plan works well it will be made daily. The plan will not be put in practice until the fall.

A SERIOUS CHARGE AGAINST A YOUNG GIRL. Two young girls, Barbara Scheidel, of No. 596 Park-ave., and Bertha Kehr, of No. 503 Flushing-ave., were among the prisoners arraigned yesterday in the being wayward. The complainants were the girls' Bertha wept bitterly as she realized her position and accused Earbara with being responsible for her waywardness. In addition to this she said that Barbara had within the last six months induced several young girls to leave their homes to live a life of shame.
The girl's story will be investigated by the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children. Justice Goetting sent the girls to the House of Refuge.

WHITE PLAINS. The families of John Daly and Edward Powers were nearly poisoned to death on Sunday. On Saturday night Mrs. Daly went to a bakery, near her home, in Brookfield-st., White Plains, and purchased a cake for Sunday's dinner. At dinner the cake was served, and shortly after Mrs. Daly and her two children and Mrs. Powers had eaten it they were taken violently fil. Daly and Powers were not at the meal and escaped being poisoned. Dr. Magness was called in and at once administered antidotes to the sufferers, and brought them through safely. On Monday, Daly and Powers had a piece of the cake for their luncheon and after enting it they also be-came ill. They were taken home and Dr. Magness treated them. Daly is still confined to his bed, but will recover. Powers recovered so that he could go to work yesterday. Dr. Magness said that the cake was poisoned. It is thought that there must have been some rat poison in the bakery which accidentally Clerk Griffin, of the Surrogate's Court, has completed his report and is awaiting the arrival of the examiner.

Sarah M. Nichols, a professional nurse, obtained a judgment of $2,100 in the Circuit Court yesterday against the estate of the late Mrs. Sarah A. Odell, of Eastchester. She had nursed Mrs. Odell, who was an invalid, for seven years.

Charles P. Vaughn, a young man of Mount Vernon, who is interested in a large snoe manufacturing establishment at Salem, Mass., was the plaintiff yesterday before Judge Brown, in an action for divorce from his wife Annie Lillian Vaughn. Mr. Vaughn alleged that he married the defendant at Peabody. Mass., six years ago. She was then a Miss Ladd. The married life of the couple was a happy one for several years. Then business called Mr. Vaughn away from home frequently. An estrungement followed, it is said, on August 5, of last year. The husband requested his brother, George C. Vaughn, who is also in the shoe business, to wait upon his wife, who was in New-York, to order her return home. In the mean time the brother-in-law met a friend named William F. Kennedy, an iron merchant, of St. Louis, and introduced him to his sister-in-law, Mrs. Vaughn and they had dinner together. At the dinner Vaughn told his friend that he was about to start for Philadelphia, and saw Kennedy and Mrs. Vaughn on the steemer Massachusetts, where they occupied a stateroom together between New-York and Providence. He informed his brother several days hier of that fact, and when Mrs. Vaughn was accused of indiscretion she broke down in the presence of Melvin Woodbury and his wife at the Woodbury home at Salem, and admitted her guilt. Mr. and Mrs. Woodbury who is a sister of the plaintiff, swore that her sisterin-law said

George Greenwood, fifty years old, an Englishman was killed at Elizabeth shortly after midnight Tuesday by being run over on the Post-ave. coal tracks by a drill engine. Greenwood was the proprietor of by a drill engine. Greenwood was the proprietor of the Long Branch House at Elizabeth and, it is thought, wandered away from home while temporarily demented. He was seen sitting on the track between the rails, and although signals were sounded and the engineer yelled to him he never budged. Patrick Keenan, a brakeman, made an heroic attempt to save Greenwood's life and nearly got killed himself. He was hit by the engine and thrown into a ditch. He escaped with slight bruises. Greenwood's body was so tightly wedged under the engine that hydraulic Jacks had to be procured to raise it and extricate the man, who was still alive, but died on being taken to the hospital.
